

CLIMATE ACADEMY WEBINAR

Natural resource managers are tasked with understanding climate change impacts and using this knowledge in making decisions. This 10-month webinar series is part of the pilot offering of Climate Academy, an online course. These webinars are designed to cover the fundamentals of climate science, provide tools and resources for climate adaptation, increase climate literacy and communication, and provide guidance for maintaining literacy using shared online resources.

Although the course is full, there is still space for those of you on the drop-in list to participate. Please follow the directions below to attend this specific webinar. Future announcements will contain similar instructions.

“Addressing Uncertainty”

Wednesday, January 9, 2:00-3:30 PM Eastern

*Dr. Leigh Welling

*Dr. Michelle Haynes
(U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service)*

Description: Dr. Leigh Welling and Dr. Michelle Haynes will review how conservation managers are dealing with uncertainty about future climate change projections, their impacts on natural resources, and how decision-making tools such as scenario planning, structured decision making, and adaptive management may be used to identify key uncertainties and assist long-term conservation planning.
